Writing Rules 21-25

This section contains five vertical columns, each representing a writing rule. Each column has a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line. The letters are shown in a dashed, grey font with black arrows and dots indicating the starting point and direction of the stroke.

- Column 1: Shows the letter 'z' with a starting dot on the top line. The first stroke is a horizontal line to the right, then a curve down to the bottom line, and finally a diagonal line to the right.
- Column 2: Shows the letter 's' with a starting dot on the middle dashed line. The stroke starts with a curve down to the bottom line, then curves back up to the middle dashed line, and finally curves down to the bottom line.
- Column 3: Shows the letter 'o' with a starting dot on the middle dashed line. The stroke is a single counter-clockwise circle.
- Column 4: Shows the letter 'e' with a starting dot on the middle dashed line. The stroke starts with a counter-clockwise circle, then a horizontal line to the right, and finally a vertical line down.
- Column 5: Shows the letter 'l' with a starting dot on the middle dashed line. The stroke is a vertical line down to the bottom line, followed by a curve to the right and then back up to the middle dashed line.
